
Title: Message From Lord Regent

Author:

Understand that in times of great loss, or circumstance, unified attempts have reduced casualties and greatly
overcome adversities.
As you all support
the external body that is the Regency,
understand that that was not my purpose or connection to it. My connection to that Government that rightly hold office
amongst the people of Britannia was the spirit of the Regency.
Look amongst yourselves, does not diversity sit within this room? Is your cabinet not made of individuals with their differences, likes and dislikes, strengths and weaknesses? Tis what makes this organization and collection of individuals great. It is your divine right to have a system that rules
you actively and the way you see fit. Not a system ruled by an individual that will bark orders and rule
his or her own personal judgments.
Your Choice, and Ability to choose that which you believe in is what makes the Regency
great..maintain that greatness forever more. Hold fast to the spirit of the regency.
I have nay abandoned

you, but have parted
for a moment to solidify my spirit, to better instruct and guide the lands people...I will return shortly.

This message to the Loyalists was delivered to his Lord Regents' Chamberlain
with instruction to see that they recieved
it in his absence.
